

Dear Eliza

Oh Dear Eliza, well I don't know you
And you don't know me, meet you soon
Out in Seattle, the blue rain falling
Cafes are playing, my favorite tune
And 'round the corner, she's a-waiting
We are waiting, for something more
When I see you laughing, I can't help asking
I've got to take a chance for you

Oh Dear Eliza, July is calling
The sunlight's falling, upon the ground
Snow on the mountain, the days we're counting
The cruise ships rolling, upon the sound
Oh be my sunlight, and be my snowfall
I'll be your autumn, I'll be your spring
These seasons turning, my sad heart burning
Let's sit and watch the sun go down

And on a meadow underneath the starlight
We'll stay here all night, we'll stay awake
And we'll be singing, now until forever
The greatest music, I'll ever make

Oh Dear Eliza, I'll never know you
'Cause you live only, within my mind
And when I make it, out to Seattle
You are the dream I'll, I'll never find
So by the harbor, the high-tide summer
The cold sea flowing, along the pier
Then dear Eliza, I'll dream about you
I'll still be wishing you were here
Oh Dear Eliza, I'll never know you
So I wrote this song you'll never hear
